

Deer Leap '53

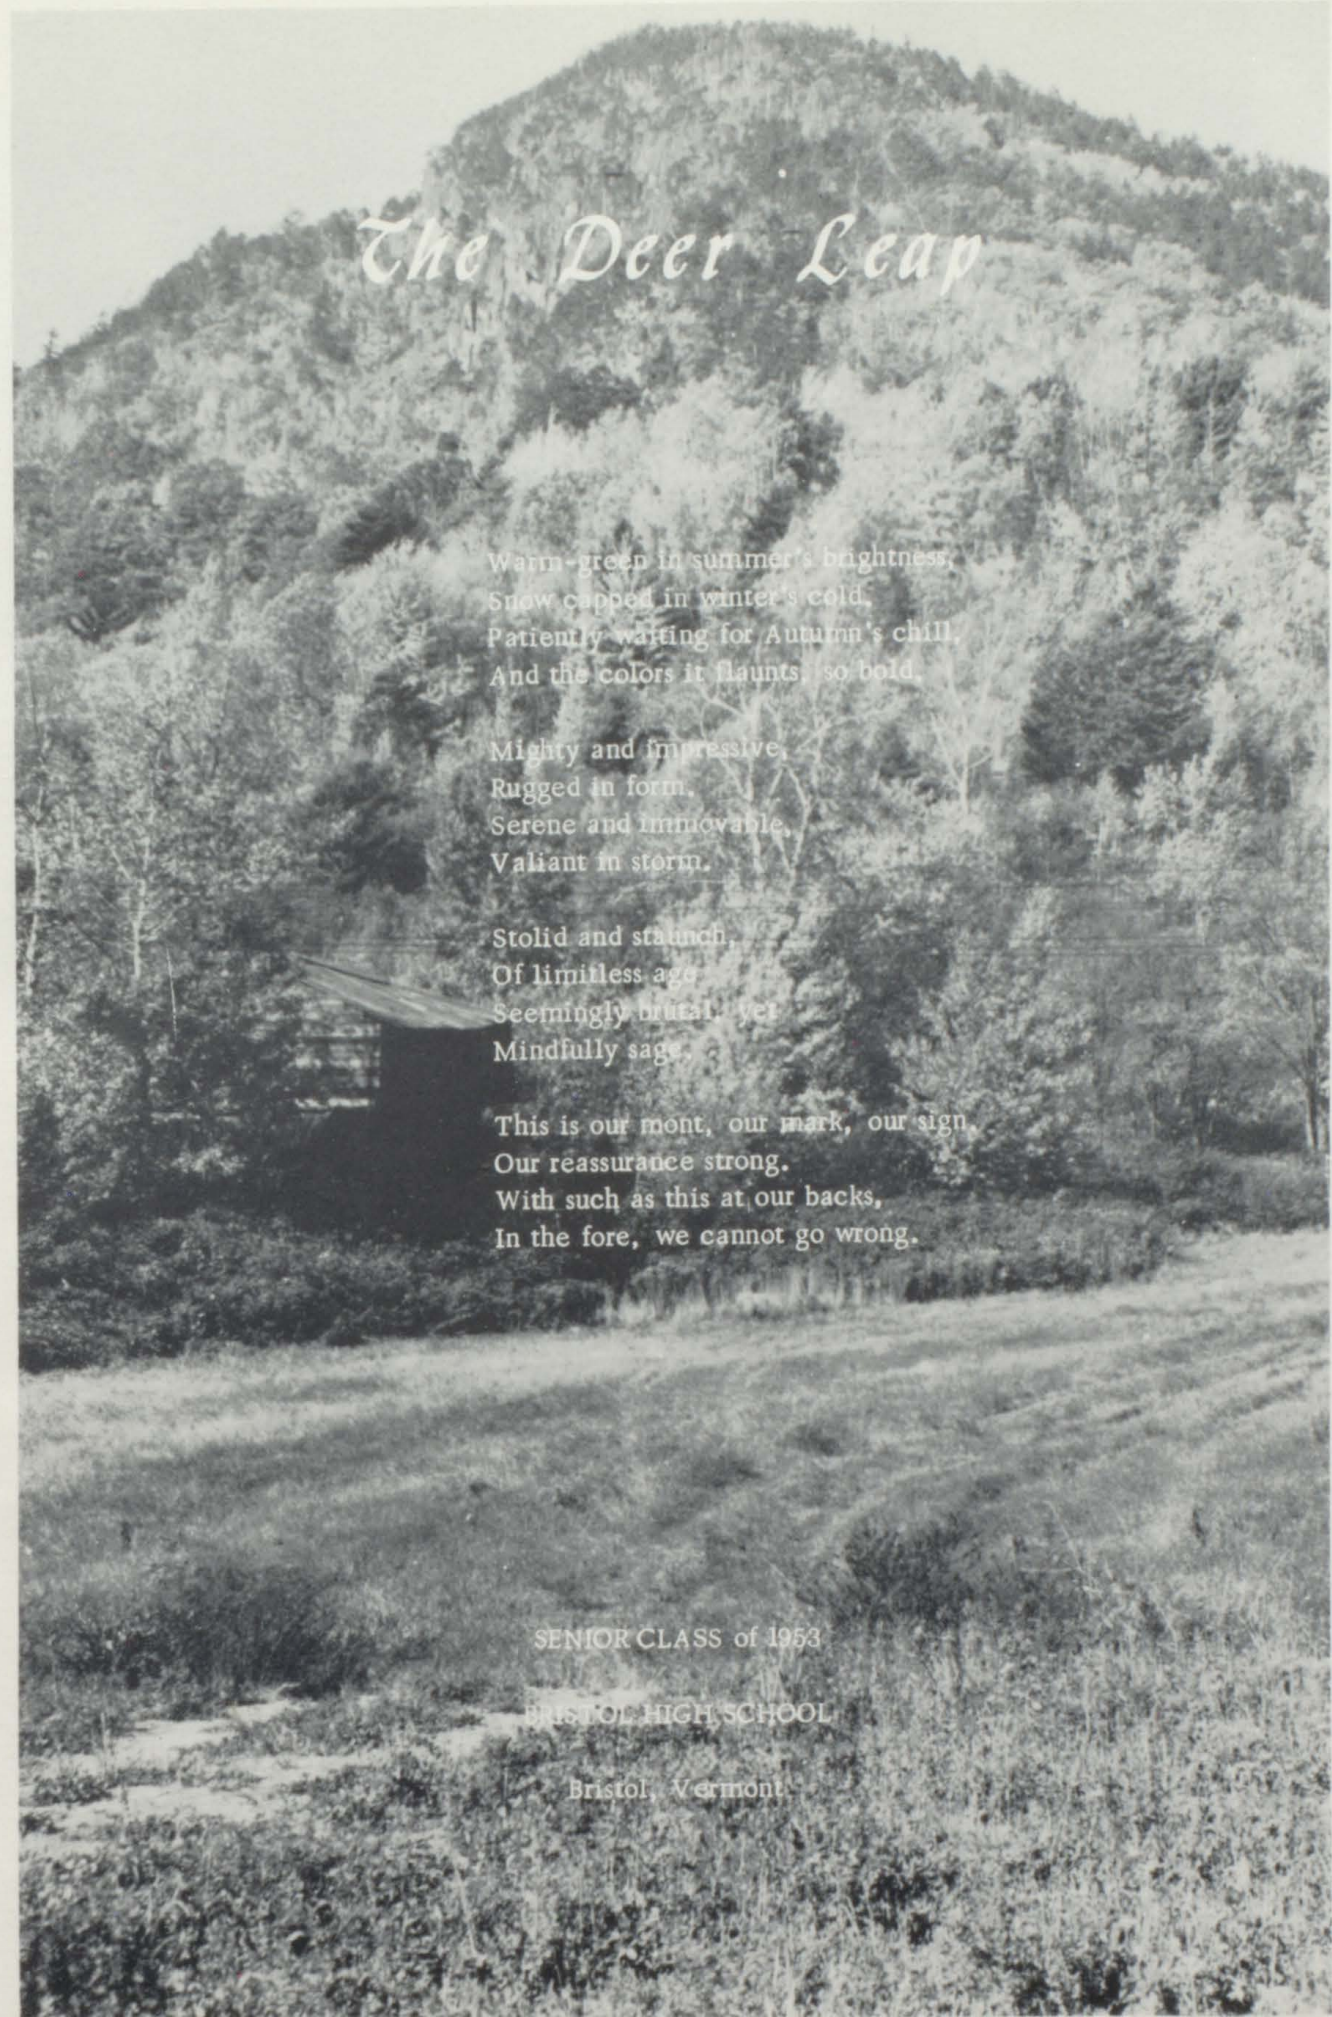

The Deer Leap

Warm-green in summer's brightness,
Snow capped in winter's cold,
Patiently waiting for Autumn's chill,
And the colors it flaunts, so bold.

Mighty and impressive,
Rugged in form,
Serene and immovable,
Valiant in storm.

Stolid and staunch,
Of limitless age,
Seemingly brutal, yet
Mindfully sage.

This is our mont, our mark, our sign,
Our reassurance strong.
With such as this at our backs,
In the fore, we cannot go wrong.

SENIOR CLASS of 1953

BRISTOL HIGH SCHOOL

Bristol, Vermont

We Dedicate

To you,
Mr. Marshall,
we, the Senior Class of 1953, wish to take this opportunity to show our appreciation.

Through our high school years your deep interest, guidance, and patience have played a most important part and we are deeply grateful.

And in light of this, we proudly dedicate to you our 1953 YEARBOOK.

Class Poem

by Frank Grumman

And now we go to face our fate in life,
When closed for e'er our well-worn books will be.
The time has flown without a hint of strife--
But happy days will soon be a memory.

Though fate may take us far from this dear place,
And dull the brightness of each lilting scene:
Though time should dim remembrance of a face,
Our hearts will keep the laughter ever keen.

We now do feel the poignant, bitter sorrow
Of leaving what we've come to hold so dear,
For leave we shall to meet the new tomorrow,
With hope in heart and in each eye a tear.

At Wisdom's fount we filled our cups with learning,
Which now shall guide us, ever brightly burning.

Class Song

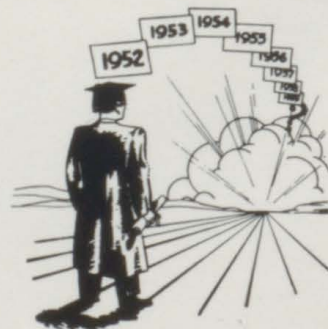

Tune--Now is The Hour

School days are passing behind,
Life's busy task lies unconquered.
We've had our share of the fun,
Now we shall ever march onward.

Chorus

Now is the hour,
When we must say goodbye,
Soon we'll be leaving
The halls of Bristol High.
After we're gone,
We will remember you.
And to thy name,
Oh Bristol, we will be true

By Robert Bedard

Class Gifts

To Arona we give this little clock,
To keep in step with all the "Docs."

To Bobby we give an airplane plan,
So he can fly to any land.

To Alice we give this little lodge,
So she can be the wife of Rog.

To Betty we give this little book,
To Keep her Navy men on the hook.

To Ronald we give this book of knowledge,
So he can use it while attending college.

To Patty we give an extra tongue,
Talking so much she wears out her own one.

To Walter we give a chemistry set,
Because he hasn't discovered the A bomb, yet.

To Frank we give this airplane and flier,
So he will be able to climb a lot Hier.

To Vincent we give this brand new car,
So he can drive near and far.

To Joan we give this ruler of brown,
We know as a bookkeeper she'll go to town.

To Lorraine we give this recipe book,
Because sooner or later you'll have to cook.

To Charlie we give a new automobile,
So he can go around corners on two wheels.

To Betsy, bless her little heart from whom we hate to part
We give this memo book so she won't forget B.H.S.

To Bill we give this brand new Nash
So over to Patty's he can dash.

To Carol with the auburn hair
We give this bottle of shampoo, so rare.

To Doris we give this Beauty book
So she can keep up her good looks.

To George we give this wig so bright
So he won't scare the girls when he goes out at night.

To Scrib we give 32nd Street
So he can move his great big feet.

To Lucille the short and small one of the class
We give these elevated shoes so she will be tall at last.

To Stanley we give this cook book,
So in the Navy he'll be an excellent cook.

Class Prophecy

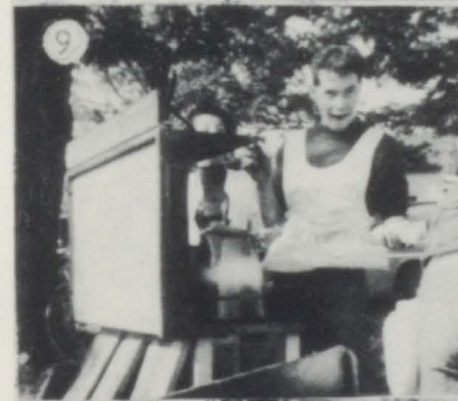

Twenty years have passed since the class of '53 graduated. We know that some of the members of the class have made good so lets look as we travel on our magic carpet to tour the world. Our first stop is the Carribean and we look aboard a great cruiser and see Gerald Scribner and Stanley Smith as captain and first mate, we say hello and ask how the Navy is treating them. We then travel to China and see two Air Force captains having a good time, why, it's Ronald DeNeve and George Rockwood. We shake hands and stay for a short visit and then travel on to Paris, where we see great paintings by Robert Bedard. As we walk down a street in Paris, we see Bob dining in an outdoor cafe.

we pass a few words and continue on our way. We then travel to Ireland and see a big farm owned by Vincent Heffernan; we knew the Irish would get the best of you, Vince. We then board our magic carpet and start for the United States, but our carpet goes haywire and we are forced to land on an island. We meet two Waves, Joan Hill and Betty Clark. We ask how life is treating them, they say, "there's no life like Navy life." The mechanic is Charles Orvis, we ask how come he is on an island and he says, "I make enough to live and the redheads keep me busy most of the time." We board the magic carpet and our destination is California, we stop in Hollywood where we see a well known name on the foot lights, none other than Frank Grumman, the musician. We head for New York, as we pass Ohio we see Mr. LeBaron as a retired teacher, our last class advisor of B.H.S. We see a great restaurant owned by Alice Booska. We go in and talk for a while and we get a free meal. Then we once more set off for New York. When we hit New York we come upon a large hospital, where we see Doris Rathbun, Arona Atkins, and Lorraine Lathrop as nurses. We decide to drop in on the editor of the New York Times, Bill Paine, and his stenographer is Pat Desorda. Leaving New York we go to Michigan and we come upon Henry Fords factory, as we enter the office we see two stenographers, Carol Noble and Lucille Shiverette. We ask them if the 1973 Fords are going to be different, they say, "yes, you are going to be able to get 180 miles to a gallon of gas. To complete our travels, we go to Detroit to the great high school and the principal is Rebecca Orvis. We say hello and ask her where we can find the minister of Detroit, Walter Freeman. We find him going into the church. He stops long enough to say hello, but then he has to hurry because he has a Bible class. We now have seen everybody that graduated from Bristol High in the class of '53. They were a great class and have accomplished great things, which will be recorded in history books.

Signed, sealed and delivered by the magic carpet. George Rockwood, Charles Orvis, and Ronald DeNeve.

1 Save some for later.
 2 Now , when we wuz kids---
 3 What!!! In public?
 4 Stop loafing and sell those dogs.
 5 Oh, what a lovely day.
 6 Just those two.
 7 You're not supposed to sit on that desk.
 8 The "Wheels"

9 Chief cook and bottle washer.
 10 Have fun while you're able.
 11 Maggie.
 12 Ah, for the stage.
 13 What a stout fire escape.

Class Will

The class of '53 of Bristol High School do ordain and establish our last will and testament.

Mr. Breen - a crystal ball so he can look into what will be a brilliant future.

Mrs. Granger - a pair of magic knitting needles so she can make us all a going away present.

Mr. LeBaron - a paradise filled with everything but Seniors.

Mr. Comstock - a fly swatter so he can swat all the flies out of Bristol High School.

Mr. Rippon - a toupe to cover his bald spot.

Mr. Bourgeois - the senior class leaves their calmness and a few yardsticks to help out in class.

Mrs. Jones - a class in Home Economics next year so she can share her color green with them.

Miss. Small - the dream of a Prince Charming.

Mr. Menkins - this advice "Better hide that Studebaker or you won't be a batch long."

Mr. Moore - we leave our love of new school houses, we will have someday. (When the others fall down.)

Mrs. Jimmo - some French and Latin students for next years classes.

Mrs. Lamont - some glue so she can stick here for more than one year and break our tradition.

To the under-classmen - We say this "You will never have such a bunch of jokers as we."

Bill Paine - leaves his ability to soft soap his mom into letting him take the car to Charles Lafley.

Walter Freeman - his height to Annette Menard.

Lorraine Lathrop - her interest in Starksboro to Ruth Nelson.

Lucille Shiverette - her quietness to Carroll Douglas.

Doris Rathborn - those flirty green eyes to Clara Purinton.

Robert Bedard - his musical ability to Arthur Pixly.

Stanley Smith - his interest in the fairer sex to B. Aldrich.

Joan Hill - her quick walk to David Knight.

Betty Clark - her good looks to I. Besaw.

Rebecca Orvis - her short time in B.H.S. to R. Morrison.

Frank Grumman his freckles to Billy Hill.

Carol Noble - her height to Gilbert Partch.

Patty Desorda - her French temper to Norma Purinton.

Vincent Heffernan - his reserve nature to Susan Freeman.

George Rockwood - his late hours to Joan Frazer.

Charles Orvis - his ability to parallel park to C. LaFrance.

Ronald DeNeve - his knowledge to parliamentary procedure to C. Fuller.

Arona Atkins - her dimples to Yvonne Cousino

Gerald Scribner - his pool ability to Marilyn Shea

The Class History

Our minds being clouded by the mists of memory, the only things that stand out clear in our first six years are the picnics on the ball diamond and the one at Bill's camp in New Haven.

Our Seventh year comes more clearly to mind and we recall moving to a new schedule which robbed us of our beloved recess. Mrs. Whitcomb wielded the birch rod, but consented to help us sell our salt water taffy.

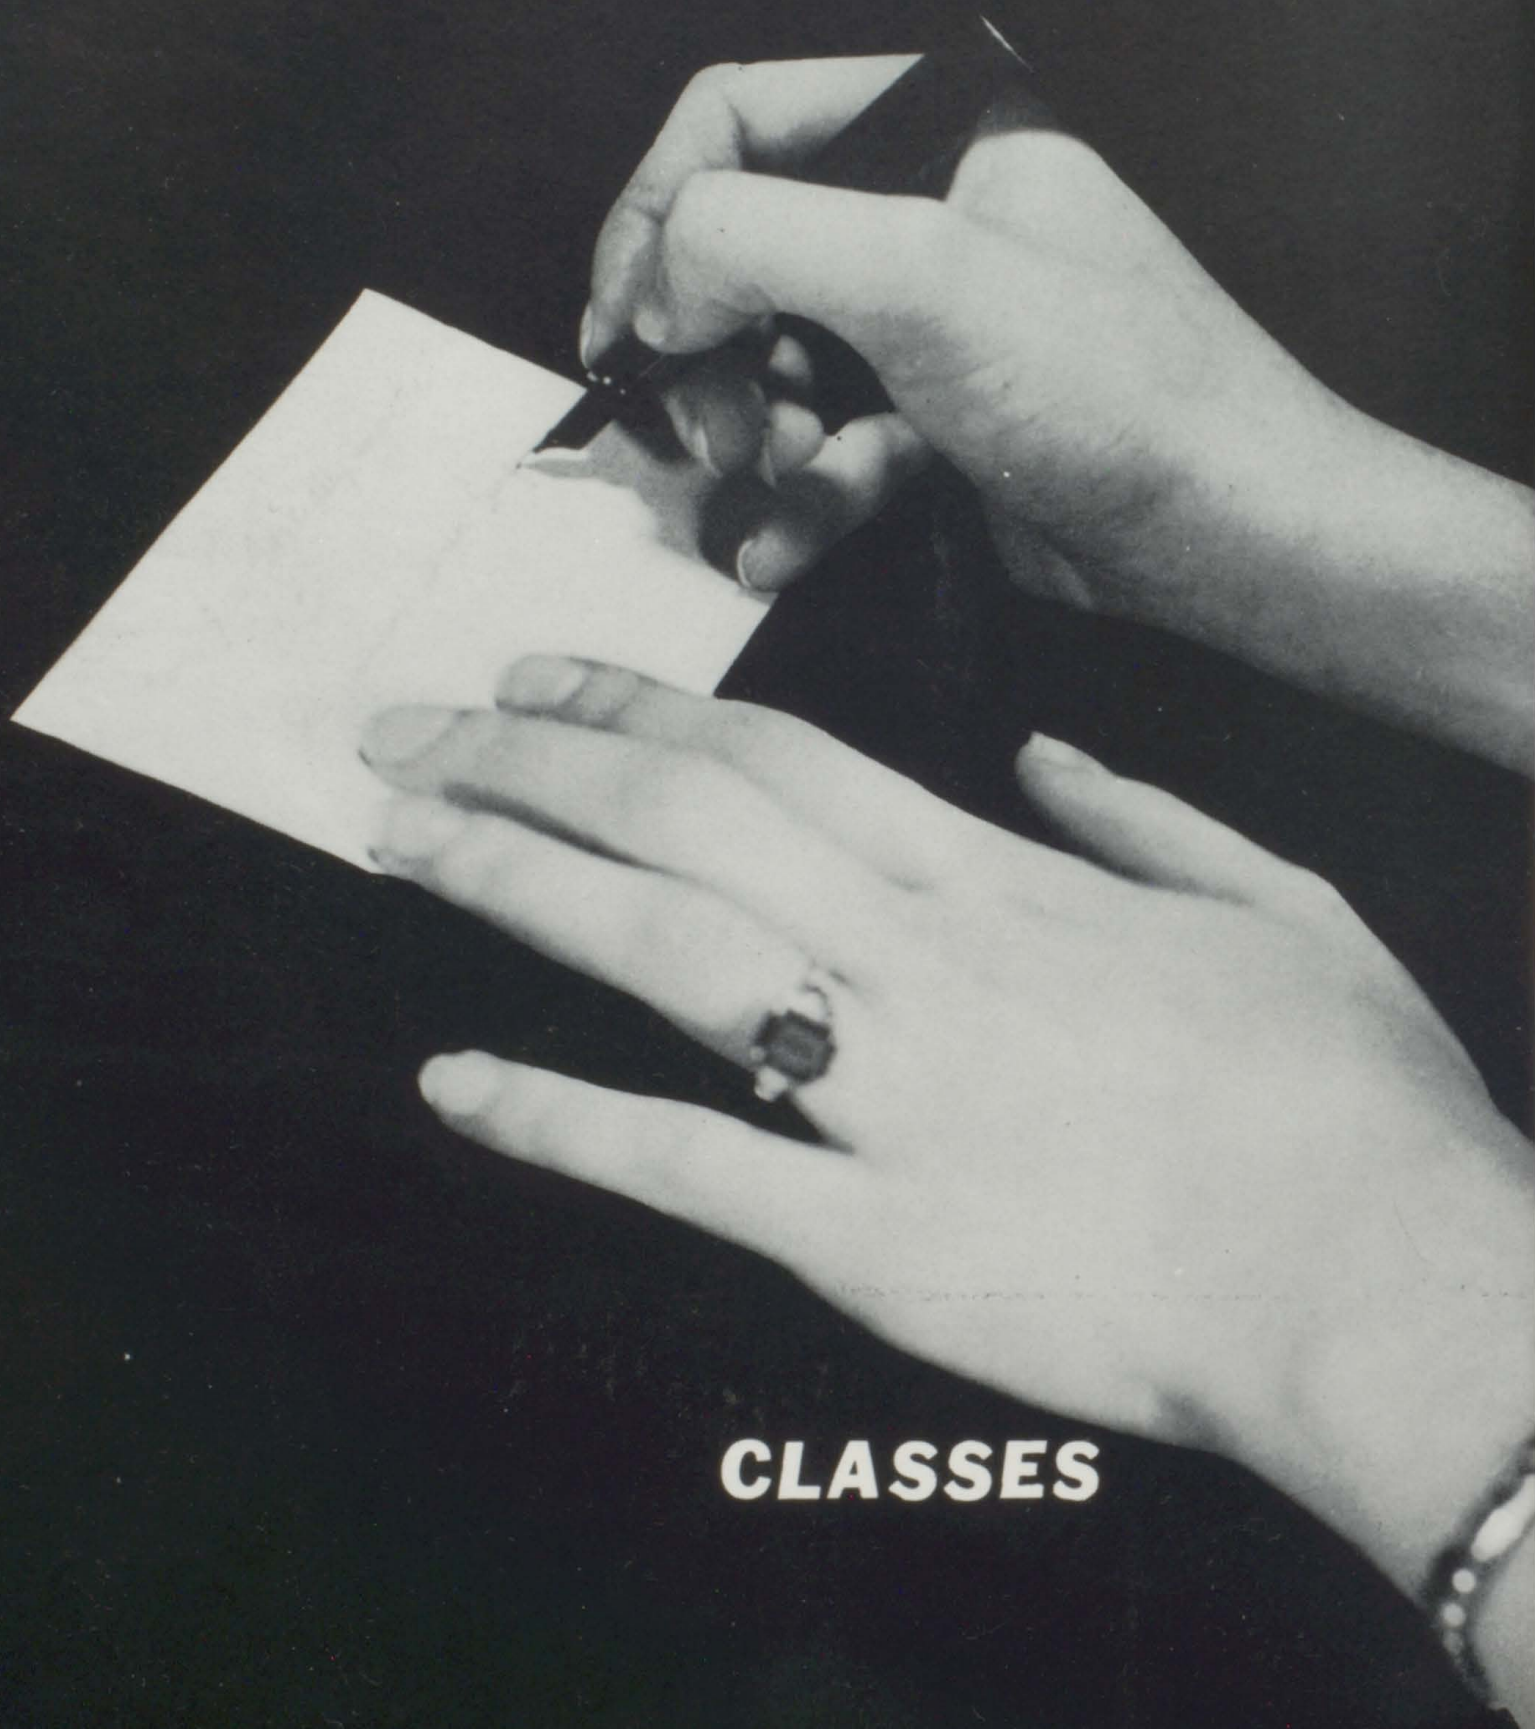

During our 8th grade we piled up some more money at the annual School Fair. Another trip to Ethan Allen Park for our second annual picnic ended the year.

Under the "great" Dick Caswell, we picked up the following strays from New York, Lincoln, and several other small towns: Arona Atkins, Charlie Orvis, Frank Grumman, Betty Clark, Carol Noble, Joan Hill, Cora Hubbell, Rebecca Orvis, Addie Pixley, Marjorie Young, John Quinn, Lucille Shiverette, and Stanley Smith. Belle Cousino and Cloise Murray, Jit Clapper, Joyce Harriman, Anna Booska, Allen Williams, and Raymond Morrison fell by the wayside. Our initiation was a rugged one, but we fixed this year's freshmen when their turn came.

Mr. LeBaron was our Sophomore advisor in the year that Arlene LaFave left. Vince Heffernan returned to make up the loss. We sponsored several dances which bolstered our treasury funds.

Mr. Comstock helped us to sponsor the most magnificent Junior Prom ever seen in Bristol. We also sponsored a couple of Orchestra dances and a Bazaar on the park.

Our last and most spectacular year again found Mr. LeBaron at the helm. Because we found that a millionaire's money is needed to be a successful Senior, we sponsored a Chicken Pie supper, a very successful dance, and a Ham Raffle. We ended this eventful year with an excursion to New York, City, and showing the people how to have good time in three money-spending days.

CLASSES

Juniors

Mr. Comstock; Front Row: Left to Right: R. Rockwood; E. Cloe; C. Hoag; N. Purinton; K. Dunn; G. Partch; T. Masterson; Second row: C. Lafley; A. Hunt; C. LaFrance; M. Lattrell; I. Besaw; D. French; R. The Junior Class this year had many of its members participating in the school athletic program which included, Soccer, Basketball (boys and girls) Baseball, and Softball (girls).

The class did a good job at B.H.S. this year because of the help of our class advisor, Mr. Comstock.

In addition to other class activities our class held the Junior-Senior Prom on the twelfth of June in Holly Hall as did last year's class.

The class obtained money for the treasury by sponsoring a dance at Holly Hall, and selling tickets on a turkey raffle. Charles Hoag, Secretary.

ACTIVITIES

Dramatic Club

This year the Dramatic Club sponsored a Three Act Play for the benefit of the Seniors and in March we sponsored three one-act plays for the athletic fund.

Included in the three one-act plays was a condensed version of "Macbeth" adapted by Frank Grumman.

This is the hard-working crew that put out your Deer Leap this year. Hope you enjoy it as much as we will.

Year Book Staff

Patrol

Commercial Club

Glee Club

This year the Glee Club held three concert programs for the public entertainment.

Representing us this year at the All State Music Festival were: Joan Hill, Ruth Murphy, Patty Desorda, Bob Bedard, and Bill Paine. Walter Freeman and Frank Grumman were in the Band. Officers were: Bill Paine, Patty Desorda and Bob Bedard.

The Fire Squad started out by electing Ronald DeNeve Captain and Gerald Scribner as lieutenant. Fire Drills were held throughout the year.

Fire Squad

Student Council

Front Row: W. Wisell, B. Paine, R. Palmer, R. Orvis, C. Scribner, R. Delong.
 Second Row: C. Fuller, R. Dike, D. Jeffers, G. McDonough, G. Rockwood, C. Lyons.
 Back Row: A. Ryan, R. Morse, Mr. Bourgeois, Advisor, M. Paine, J. Trudo.(not in photo) C. LaFley.

This year the Student Council sponsored a clean-up campaign which helped, the first part of the year, to keep the school clean. They also sponsored a party for Mr. Marshall when he left in February.

When Mr. Breen came he helped us to sponsor the assemblies and to rig the schedule for the assemblies.

We also scheduled the noon-hour activity periods for the persons who stay at noon. President was Bill Paine, Vice-President was Rebecca Orvis, Secretary was Shirley Purington, and Treasurer was Carolee Scribner.

ATHLETICS

Girls' Basketball

Back row: left to right: Manager Ruth Murphy, Colleen LaFrance, Laura Rathbun, Rebecca Orvis, Antoinette Thomas, Coach Granger, Carolyn Paine, Rae Palmer, Joan Fraser, Viola Jewel, Manager Lorraine Lathrop. Front row: Carolee Scribner, Barbara Hier, Co-captains, Patty Desorda and Doris Rathbun, Madeline Latrell, Ruth Nelson.

The team loses three players this year. These include Patty Desorda, Doris Rathbun and Rebecca Orvis. But with the capable material coming in such as Antoinette Thomas, Joan Fraser, and Caroline Paine, they are sure to have a good squad next year.

Games played were as follows:

Bristol	30	Bethel	27	Bristol	44	Hinesburg	16
Bristol	26	Randolph	35	Bristol	36	Bethel	42
Bristol	27	New Haven	28	Bristol	35	Middlebury	39

4 Mutt and Jeff.
5 Tough fight but we made it. Champs "53" 6 It happens to the best of us.
7 WOW!!!!!!
8 Sittin pretty.
9 What's cookin?
10 Don't take it so serious.
11 It's bigger than both of us.
12 A little lower,
freshmen.
13 Casanovas two.
